

Colorado-Wyoming Air Guard To Arrive Here Saturday

The arrival here Saturday of the Colorado and Wyoming Air National Guard squadrons will open the 1950 summer military training season. About 725 men and officers comprise the two state groups of flyers and ground crews. The adjutant general's office stated that air guard units from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska and Indiana will train during the summer at the Grayling, Oscoda and Selfridge Field air bases.

The wide use of Michigan air bases by the Air National Guard units from many states coupled with the mass war games of the Fifth Army scheduled for the month around Sault Ste. Marie and the locks will draw the eye of the nation on Michigan.

Administrative arrangements for the supply of the visiting airmen are being made by Colonel Ray E. Cotton, U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer for the Michigan Military Establishment, assisted by Lt. Colonel Walter E. Nicol. Contracts have already been let for supplying approximately $9,000 worth of food items for the western airmen.

Grayling Scores Third Victory

The Grayling Indies traveled to Rust last Sunday to take on the newcomers to the North Central Michigan League and racked up their third victory at the expense of the hosts. The Rust team collected 5 hits and made 7 misplays. Bob "Musty" Gildner again went the distance on the mound for Grayling with Ross Thompson behind the plate. Rust used Allen and Farrier on the mound with McMayshy behind the plate. Gildner also did his bit at the plate as he collected 5 hits in six times at bat three doubles and a brace of singles. Clyde Anthony hit 2 for 4, a double and a single. Ross Thompson got 2 for 3, a double and single with Elery Hornung also getting 2 for 3 a pair of singles. Grayling plays host to Comins here next Sunday with the game set to start at 2:30 P. M. at the City Park Field. Comins has a record of two wins and one loss to throw against Grayling's string of three victories. A really hot ballgame is expected.

LIBERTY BELL REPLICA TO VISIT HERE

Pictured above is the full-size exact duplicate of the Liberty Bell which will be displayed locally and will tour the state as the symbol of the Independence Savings Bonds Drive from May 15 to July 4, which urges the people to "Save for your Independence."

Fifty-two of these bells, touring the nation during the drive, were completely donated by America's copper producers. Companies donating the Liberty Bells are the Anaconda Copper Corp.; Phelps-Dodge Corp.; American Smelting and Refining Co.; The American Metal Co. Ltd.; Miami Copper Co. The U. S. Steel Corp's American Bridge Company supplied the stays and hardware used in mounting the bells. The Ford Motor Company is providing the transportation of these bells across the nation.

"Independence Day" will be coming a little early in Crawford County this year.

The big day for citizens of this area to celebrate Independence—their personal financial independence—will arrive next Tuesday, June 13, according to John Bruun, chairman of the Crawford County Volunteer Savings Bonds Committee.

That's the day when Michigan's "duplicate original" Liberty Bell will arrive in Grayling to be rung in 2:30 P. M. ceremonies spearheading the campaign to sell a quota of $3,000.00 in U. S. Savings Bonds in this county during the Independence Drive, ending July 4.

The replica, an exact duplicate of America's hallowed freedom symbol, even to tone, is touring the State on a red, white and blue Ford truck to emphasize the timelessness of the Drive's slogan: "Save for Your Independence—Buy U. S. Savings Bonds."

Elaborate ceremonies have been prepared for the ringing of the Bell, said to be audible for 10 miles and guaranteed by bellmeters to reproduce the long silent voice of the original, Mr. Bruun added.

The Liberty Bell is a great deal more than a symbol of the Independence Drive," Mr. Bruun said. "It is the symbol of our freedom and personifies the American spirit. Everyone is invited to see this breathtakingly beautiful Bell and hear it ring."

The Bell will arrive in Grayling at 2:30 P. M. from Rosconm and will be here until 4 P. M., when it will leave for Gaylord. County residents who are unable to make it into Grayling to see the Bell may be able to catch a glimpse of it on its way here or on the way to Gaylord.

During the eight War Bond drives, the citizens of Grayling and Crawford County purchased $1,312,430.00 in War Bonds, which made Crawford County on a per capita basis one of the leading of the eighty-three counties in Michigan, according to John Bruun, who was chairman at the time and still is chairman of U. S. Savings Bond Sales in our county. This record is too good to be broken and it is urged that everyone in Crawford County that possibly can will support the present "Independence Bond Drive" by purchasing at least one "E" bond.

The Liberty Bell will arrive here on Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock P. M. It will be met according to Mr. Jack Wade, commander of the local American Legion Post by a color guard at the South end of the city limits on US-27 and escorted by that Guard and City police to the West end of Michigan Avenue—between the M. C. R. R. Station and the Liquor Store.

Services were held from the Boyce Funeral Home with burial in Mt. Home Cemetery, Osego. Relatives outside the immediate families attending the funeral were Mrs. Oscar Charon, Grayling; Mr. and Mrs. Freeborn Richards, Charlevoix; Mrs. Cora Sheldon and daughter, Indianapolis, Indiana and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bice of Farmington.

School Out Now. Kids Need Protection

A million Michigan children—glad in the freedom of school let out—are rushing out to play. With skates and bikes, kites and boats, and dolls and jumping ropes, and, of course, every protection that Michigan adults can give them. Be sure that your car does not harm one of them. Check to make sure that your own home yard and drive have no hazards for your children—no place they can be caught unawares and injured. Enroll your children in the organized playground activity in your home community and show them how to get to the playground and back home safely. Plan for a rest period for your children each afternoon. A rested child is not only safer from illness he is safer from accidents.

The Rangers served notice that they expect to league champs by walloping the Flashes last week 23 to 8, while the Flashes overcame the Gremlins 8 to 1. The Rangers defeated the Dodgers 13 to 6. The Rangers and the Gremlins each have a win and a loss to their credit while the Dodgers and Meanies have each lost two. Tuesday, the Dodgers face the Meanies, Wednesday the Gremlins face the Rangers and Thursday the Flashes face the Rangers in what should be a real game. On Tuesday June 13, the Dodgers meet the Flashes and on the 14th the Rangers take on the Gremlins with the Terrors mixing it up with the Meanies on the 15th. Larry Galehouse who is handling the league reports that about 200 youngsters turn out each week for the games, but so far hardly any parents have attended. Galehouse added, "We'd like to see everybody out to the games. Remember when you were a kid you liked to show off in front of Mom and Dad? Well, these kids are just the same and they'd like to see their parents there while they are playing."

All of the games are played in the summer softball league are on the Grayling Golf Club softball diamond.

The baccalaureate services opened with a procession played by Virginia Kaiser, followed by a welcoming address by Frederic School Superintendent John A. E. MacAuley. The invocation was given by Rev. The trio then sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" with Miss Pratt accompanying. The congregation then joined in singing "America" followed by the benediction by Rev. Puffer.

The Frederic graduates of 1950 have chosen their motto: "When the great recorder comes to write against your name, he cares not if you won or lost but how you played the game." Their class flower is the white rose with their colors being red and white. Mrs. Helen Madsen is the class sponsor.

On Friday, June 2 the commencement program was held at the school, starting at 8 P. M.

The professional played by Virginia Kaiser opened the program with Rev. Father John Brienstein of Grayling giving the invocation. Edna Dunkley then gave the Salutatory address. The Grayling High School Glee Club under the direction of Mrs. Roy O. Milnes sang "Good Bye Old High." They were accompanied by Miss Joan Andrews. ## Grayling Chamber Of Commerce Slowed By Fund Shortage

At a special Board of Directors meeting of the Grayling Chamber of Commerce held Monday evening it was decided to suspend all activities due to the lack of operating funds.

President Ray Snider explained that the Chamber had done everything to date that it had planned on its 1950 activity calendar but the lack of response in payment of dues had left no alternative but to halt activities until more money was forthcoming in the payment of 1950 dues by members in arrears.

Of 217 prospective members in Crawford County only 58 had paid their 1950 dues in full, a check revealed. Among this total only two cabin courts in the entire county were paid up members, one of the main benefactors of Chamber activities.

At the present time, the supply of county maps and accommodation folders are exhausted, President Snider said, and no more are on order due to the lack of funds. The directors will continue their monthly meetings in order to be of what service they can but expenditures of any type will not be made until money is on hand, it was said. The present Board of Directors took a unanimous and definite stand that they would not hand out to the 1951 Chamber any outstanding debts and therefore would spend only what was at hand.

The Directors also took a firm stand behind their canoe race committee in turning down a bid by the Oscoda Chamber of Commerce Canoe Committee that this year's canoe race be started from Grayling on Friday. The same stand was taken on an Oscoda proposal that Oscoda set the day this year and Grayling next year, etc. It was the feeling of the Grayling committee that the race was growing in stature to the point that it was of prime necessity that it not only be held the same days of the week but on the very same week end with the local committee using the second week end following Labor Day. The race seems to be getting nation-wide publicity now as a Life magazine photographer has been assigned to cover the race this fall along with several other nation-wide news agencies. At the present time the race stands in the shadow of a meeting of opinion between Oscoda and Grayling, it was explained. If the two co-operating towns along with Mio and the Tawassee do not agree on a policy of times, dates and other matters, the Fourth Annual Michigan Canoe Championships may not take place, it was said. A meeting set for this Tuesday night at Mio was called off as useless when the Grayling Chamber squarely backed the stand of their canoe race committee and likewise the Oscoda group took a definite stand the other way. Possible action in the future may iron out a way for the race to continue.

Marx Theory Backfires

In a column appearing in the Times-Record of Spencer, West Virginia, Delmar Hubbell takes a fresh and novel approach to the views of Karl Marx, whose Das Kapital is the bible of Communism. He asks, "Why did Marx, in seeking social and economic justice for the masses, believe that neither could ever be achieved under the conditions implicit in capitalism and democracy?"

"The answer is easy. Marx observed the conditions that existed in mid-19th century, when children toiled 12 hours a day, when the usual work day was from dawn to dark, when workers were without organization or protection, when most employers actually did exploit their employees, when business morality as we know it today was not even dreamed of."

"Private ownership of the means of production and profits seemed hateful to Marx because at that time, in Europe and in England, there was no evidence that the system could ever create the conditions of social justice that Marx desired."

Mr. Hubbell observes there is much more to the Marx theory than just this. However, as he says further, there is good reason for believing that "Marx today would be anti-communist and anti-Russian."

It is perfectly true that Marx saw, at first hand, the very worst results of the industrial revolution. So far as the masses of the people were concerned, it was one of the cruellest eras the world has known. And the point that Mr. Hubbell is making is that the modern counterpart of that era is found in the Soviet Union and the other communist states. They have turned back the clock. Slave labor is commonplace, the standard of living is incredibly low, and fear and terror rule. When Marx lived, the concentration of power that produced these conditions was held by industry and commerce. Now, in the communist countries, it is in the hands of the government and, as a result, is infinitely more difficult to correct.

FAMILY TREAT. They'll all have fun in this roomy 4-door Sedan with generous luggage space for trips. Shown here is the SPECIAL Same body type available also in the SUPER series.

Look at the FUN you're missing!

SURE, we know—a car is a "necessity" these days. A modern family "couldn't get along without one." Or so you tell yourself.

Come, come, sir! We know, and so do you, the real reason you got the new-car fever—and the kind of car you are hankering for.

You want a car with some fun in it, don't you?

A car you'll get a big bang out of every time you see it parked in front of your house—every time you slip into its front seat—every sweet and easy mile you travel in it.

Well, come see what this beauty does for you.

How the doors swing open in warm welcome at a thumb touch on a button. How the broad seats invite you to take it easy. How the big straight-eight under the bonnet snaps into purring life at your toe-touch.

And then note—

How smoothly you slip away from the curb—especially when Dynaflo™ is handling the power transmission.

How firm and steady the whole car feels. How it holds on curves, free of "heel-over" and sway. How each coil-sprung wheel quicksteps over bumps and rough spots that mean bounce and jiggle on most cars—how buoyantly road-free a Buick is.

Dynaflo Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

FOUR-WAY
FRONTEND

This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

Fun? You bet it's fun—too much fun to miss.

And there's no reason to miss it, really, for this strapping traveler is priced under many sixes. Starts at figures just an easy step above the so-called Lowest Price cars.

What's keeping you from trying one, when the nearest Buick dealer is ready to demonstrate without obligation any time you want to call on him.

Only Buick has

SHORT STORY

The Threesome

By Richard Hill Willmann

"THAT MAN," Janice thought as she brought her roadster to a halt, "has possibilities. It can't be that he lives here." He stood just inside the picket fence—six feet of tall leanness. Fair hair. Blue eyes. Bespeaking the easy arrogance of youth. He wore a blue cotton shirt and blue denim jeans.

"You're not Janice Burdon?" he said. And then at her expression: "Heavens, you are! Why couldn't Aunt Bertha have warned me?" "Is Aunt Bertha your aunt, too?" "My real aunt. You only call her auntie because she's a close friend of your mother."

That makes us not cousins," he added with frank relief. Janice rescued her suitcase from the rumble seat. "This is like one of those things you read about," he grinned, taking it from her. He studied her with honest approval. "And I thought my vacation was going to be one of those dull, uninteresting things."

Minutes later Janice faced her Aunt Bertha in the bed chamber over the front parlor.

"Oh, Auntie, why didn't you tell me he was going to be here? I didn't bring a thing. Not a thing, except my shorts, two cotton dresses and a bathing suit."

"Who?" Aunt Bertha asked innocently. "Phil? Land sakes, don't worry about him. He dropped in unexpectedly yesterday and announced he was here for two weeks. He's a dear boy. You'll like him."

The next day Janice accompanied Phil up to the north pasture and watched him prune apple trees. "I thought this was your vacation," she said after awhile.

"It is," he told her. "I like working on my vacations—out doors."

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Babbitt and baby of Detroit spent the week end here with his mother, Mrs. Pearl Babbitt. Maurice Babbitt from Pierson came Saturday, to return Sunday with his little son, Mike, who has spent the past week here with his grandmother.

Joyce Howse of Flint came to spend her vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howse.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cram of Flint spent the holiday week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Verlinde.

The Home Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Stanley Hummel last Tuesday afternoon. Plans were started for the annual Flower Show and Rally Day to be held late in August.

Dwight and Roy Reava were hosts at an old-fashioned barn dance last Saturday night. About 30 people attended and even though the evening was cold, everyone had a nice time.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Parsons of Royal Oak spent the week end at the Oscar Parsons home. Mrs. Parsons stayed to spend a few more days here.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Papenfus of West Branch called at the Roy Papenfus home Memorial Day.

You're staying here?"

He nodded. "I'm going to try and raise apples. Auntie and I are going to be partners. This fall I'll sell what we have and next spring set out new trees. He picked up her hand. "Honey, let's make it a threesome. I know it's a lot to ask," he added wistfully. "A city girl like you. It'll be dull. But eventually—"

"I could chip in my roadster," Janice cried excitedly. "It's all I have, but it ought to bring $500. How many apple trees can you buy with $500, darling?"

"Enough," said Phil, reading her eyes, "to keep from being lonesome—I guess."

Passers-by pay the artists a few lire for the privilege of viewing the colorful masterpieces. The origin of the religious drawings is unknown, but some Romans say the custom began with the shepherd painter Giotto, who, at one time, chalked the streets of Tuscany. The children produce their drawings early in the morning before the streets become crowded.

servation department's fish division reports

Electrically-charged screens and possibly other devices will be tested as federal and state lamprey investigators probe further in their joint efforts to get a toe hold on the lamprey problem.

A few tests with electric shocking devices, made a year ago, proved ineffective as a means of destroying the lamprey larvae in the stream beds.

Besides continuing to operate present lamprey-stopping structures, federal Great Lakes lamprey investigation and control unit may install new weirs on the East Branch of the Au Gres and the Rifle Rivers.

Area A, most important experimental control zone, established between Waugachance Point at the western end of the Straits of Mackinac and Alpena, already has a dozen weirs in operation. First Lake Superior weir also has been installed on Pendell's creek which runs into Whitefish Bay.

Lampreys caught at the Cheboygan weir will be marked and released there to see if they show up at any other trap location. Lamprey workers want to determine if the lamprey, barred from upstream migration to spawn, migrates to other streams or whether they die without spawning.

The late spring, which disrupted many fish and game activities, also has delayed lamprey runs. A few reports on lampreys have been received but no heavy runs have been reported as yet.

TALES
BY PETE

If you have been reading this column even occasionally during the past year you will have noticed that the writer has tried to draw his pictures of the Michigan
lumberjack from his own experiences growing up among them, and
from tales told around campfires by the old timberlookers, the greatest story tellers of them all. While the Michigan lumberjack has been eulogized in story and in song, and he has bitten his name deeply into our traditions, it has long seemed to this writer that the bawdy side of this gallant, mild and soft-spoken pioneer has given a far greater play than his more noble side, the one discovered deep in the woods where the going was tough and the lumberjack was at his best.

History has evened the score
though, I think, in the Memorial erected to his memory on the high-banks of the Ausable River. It is almost a sacred spot to thousands who come from far places each summer to stand in awe before the giant statues of the timberlooker depicted there, who stands with compass in hand pointing the way, while close behind him crowd the log cutter with his cross-cut saw and double-bitted axe, and the riverman with his peavy. They are component parts of an era that is gone, but stories of their great feats will never die.

If you will look north from the site of the Monument at the great area of low-lying country between the river and the distant hills you will see a part of what was once called Big Bear Swamp, a land reeking with legends of mystery and foul play. Men skirted it and kept to the hills, and put as much distance as possible behind them before building their camp fires
for the night.

If you are going to be lucky this summer and make a trip, visit the National Lumbermen's Monument
about a dozen miles upriver from Oscoda on the Huron coast. Then go on west to the Hartwick Pines near Grayling and roam about that block of virgin timber that has been preserved for your benefit, and with your tax money, let your minds go back, it'll do you good.

Now in bowing out with Tall
Timber Tales, at least for the time being on account of pressing business, I want to thank the many readers who have taken the time to write me during the past year

the newspapers that have carried them. It still amazes me how letters from just about every state and from Canada, and some of the papers tell me they've had many out-of-state renewals and subscriptions, which doesn't make me

HOODLUMS' MARKS . . . These tattoo marks are being found on the hands and faces of young hoodlums being picked up in Los Angeles on beating charges and gang fights. Police believe they are symbols belonging to certain gangs and that they tell the initiated what the wearer has done. In photo at left, marks indicate membership in a gang; in second
mark is a spider and labels wearer as member of a gang; in photo at

BY PETE

If you have been reading this column even occasionally during
the past year you will have noticed that the writer has tried to draw his pictures of the Michigan
lumberjack from his own experiences growing up among them, and
from tales told around campfires
by the old timberlookers, the greatest story tellers of them all. While
the Michigan lumberjack has been
eulogized in story and in song,
and he has bitten his name deeply
into our traditions, it has long
seemed to this writer that the
bawdy side of this gallant, mild
and soft-spoken pioneer has given
a far greater play than his more
noble side, the one discovered deep
in the woods where the going was tough and the lumberjack was at his best.

History has evened the score
though, I think, in the Memorial
erected to his memory on the high-banks of the Ausable River. It is almost a sacred spot to thousands
who come from far places each
summer to stand in awe before the
giant statues of the timberlooker
depicted there, who stands with
compass in hand pointing the way,
while close behind him crowd the
log cutter with his cross-cut saw
and double-bitted axe, and the riverman with his peavy. They
are component parts of an era that
is gone, but stories of their great
feats will never die.

site of the Monument at the great
area of low-lying country between
the river and the distant hills you will see a part of what was once
called Big Bear Swamp, a land
reeking with legends of mystery
and foul play. Men skirted it and
kept to the hills, and put as much
distance as possible behind them
before building their camp fires
for the night.

If you are going to be lucky this summer and make a trip, visit the
National Lumbermen's Monument
about a dozen miles upriver from Oscoda on the Huron coast. Then go on west to the Hartwick Pines
near Grayling and roam about that
block of virgin timber that has
been preserved for your benefit,
and with your tax money, let your
minds go back, it'll do you good.

Now in bowing out with Tall
Timber Tales, at least for the time
being on account of pressing business, I want to thank the many
readers who have taken the time
to write me during the past year commenting on the stories, and the newspapers that have carried them. It still amazes me how

Something ought to be DONE...

DOES YOUR BUSINESS suffer from too much parking in too little space? Do you believe something should be done?

You can kick about it to the right people and in the right place if you have your kicker's license. A membership in your chamber of commerce assures you of an audience. You can kick and the chances are that something will be done because that's what a chamber of commerce is for. And you don't have to be a big fellow, either. Yours may be the smallest business in town but you can speak your piece with the biggest of them.

The do-something men have found results come with teamwork. You kick about parking and your fellow members help you straighten it. A fellow member kicks about housing, playgrounds, fire prevention or something else and you help him.

It's not always easy to solve every problem but it is easy to get help. All you need to do is be on the team. Ask your chamber of commerce executives for your kicker's license.
